

Antitrust ruling: Q8 Italy reaffirms the integrity of its conduct

Rome, September 26, 2025. With reference to today's news regarding the decision to convict the Company in the context of the proceeding n. 1864 regarding biofuel costs, Q8 wishes to express its surprise at the outcome of the proceedings, certain that its actions have always been in full compliance with current regulations, including competition and consumer protection regulations, as well as the highest standards of business ethics. Fully aware that we have not engaged in any anti-competitive conduct, we will carefully assess the grounds of the measure and take the appropriate steps, including filing an appeal before the Regional Administrative Court.

About Q8

Q8 is one of the leading Italian players in the energy sector, ensuring the mobility of people and goods. It operates, also through subsidiaries and affiliated companies, across the entire integrated downstream cycle—from refining to the end consumer—thanks to a network of around 2,900 service stations across the country and a logistics system that consistently supports the entire distribution network.

Q8 is also active, through other Group companies, in the production of advanced and sustainable biofuels and biogas, as well as in the direct sales market, lubricants, and fuels for marine and aviation sectors. At the core of Q8's strategy is business sustainability, pursued through the synergistic integration of environmental protection, social development, and economic growth.
